

LEAF SERIES

— by Samantha Dion Baker

The delicate Leaf Series by Samantha Dion Baker's is an ode to beauty. The series how art and nature can interact to create something inspirational. By painstakingly painting on leaves, Baker creates remarkable tributes to the natural wonder of the leaf. "One day, I found a few leaves and drew patterns on them. The leaves are like mini canvases for me to experiment with paint and pattern on. I think people are attracted to how I paint on them in a very free way, and a non-symmetrical way," says the artist. Using the leaves as mini canvases, Baker uses their symmetrical nature to create wonderful patterns. Working with acrylic paints, gel pens, acrylic paint pens, permanent markers and Krink paints, Baker's work transforms the delicate surface of the leaf into a piece of tiny art that inspires through its creativity and the unique process behind it. An experimental process, Baker's latest pieces are not currently for sale, but the artist is seeking means by which to bring them to the market. The overall reaction to her leaf art has created a lot of attention and Baker's latest creations are sure to appear for sale sooner or later, making her someone to keep an eye on. sdionbaker.com
